

Topic 03: Lexical/syntactical structures and internals of ABC programming language

ABSTRACT

This presentation is about ABC programming language. ABC language is easy to use programming language designed for teaching and prototyping. The main focus of the presentation is given to lexical structures, syntactic structures and internals of this language. Because of limited time of the presentation, there is mainly picked up attractions and specialties, which are interesting for designing a compiler.

Authors: Marek Řehulka, Michal Zátopek